ARRR, IT'S THE PIRATES SHOW

“Ahoy, landlubbers, this is a great grand show for learnin’ bout the world of pirates. Aye, Squiffy Paul O, me hearty matey, brings the sweet trade to life for young lasses and lads. Lily-livered scallywags should no never be missin’ this program or they might be findin’ themselves visitin’ Davy Jones’ Locker.”

Captain Red Pants

Paul Odenwelder, as Squiffy Paul O the pirate, makes the Golden Age of Pirates of the Americas come to life. His pirate clothes, the set with a mast complete with a Jolly Roger Flag and a sail, ropes and tackle, water barrel, treasure chest with gold doubloons and ship’s wheel all set the scene for this adventure.

Squiffy Paul O uses music, magic, and audience participation to make the learning fun. He talks about the life of pirates. How they dressed, their homes on the ships, the pirate’s code, their songs, how they fought and stole the treasures. Also, during the show he shares examples of many different pirate flags, not just the famous Jolly Rogers.

He explains the differences between Pirates, Buccaneers and the Privateers and uses stories about the most infamous pirates to illustrate the differences.

His interactive use of volunteers from the audience adds to the fun, especially during the “how pirates talk” segment.

The show is 45 minutes long and can be adjusted to different age groups. Yo, Ho, Ho, this is a funny, memorable show about a fascinating time and lives of these unusual people, The Pirates.
